Baby Race, Contecha join forces for 2018 OKJ class season

Baby Race is delighted to announce the agreement reached with Diego Contecha for the 2018 OKJ karting season. The young Colombian racer, who grew up in European competition with Sandro Lorandi's squad in the Mini class, is ready for the step to OK Junior.

Contecha has a remarkable personal record, having won multiple national Mini Rotax and Mini Vortex championships between 2013 and 2016. He also won the American Winter Tour and was vice champion in the South American championship. This year, Diego won the national Vortex Junior and X30 championships, ending up third in the US Open series and second in the Las Vegas Grand Prix.

Sandro Lorandi – Team Principal

“We are delighted to have the chance to field Diego Contecha in the OK Junior class for 2018. There is a great and mutually trusted relationship with him and he is growing up in a really promising fashion. I'm convinced that we will be able to take some important results with him at international level.”
