

Baby Race confirms Brizhan for 2018 OK Junior season

Baby Race and Alexey Brizhan will remain together in 2018. The Italian team is delighted to announce the agreement reached with the young and talented Russian driver for the coming season. Brizhan will continue his commitment to the OK Junior class after putting up a remarkable race by race progression that saw him cruise to the Italian class title and second place overall in the WSK Final Cup. His growth was so impressive that a further move to the OK class is not out of consideration for mid 2018. For the SMP Racing supported driver, the next season will be the third among the Baby Race family.

Sandro Lorandi

"We are very proud of Alexey, as he's an example for all young drivers. He arrived very young and committed himself with dedication. Thanks a calm approach and a lot of work, he grew up consistently, managing to achieve great results. In 2018, our wish is to share more amazing experiences with him and we cannot wait to get back on-track".
