KGT RACING TEAM GETS READY FOR THE ROK CUP INTERNATIONAL FINALS

After the two Italian titles won in Adria, on occasion of the Rok Cup International Finals, KGT Racing Team opens its door to new drivers as testing ground for the forthcoming season.

Immediately after the Rok Cup Italy that brought to the team a double title as engine supplier of Paolo Ferrari in Junior Rok and Kacper Szczurek in Super Rok, the Rome-based racing team is looking forward to the next important event: the Rok Cup International Finals that will take place at South Garda Karting from October 10th to 13th.

Alongside with regular drivers, the team is welcoming drivers coming from other realities who are interested in competing with KGT Racing Team in the next future. For them they created what is called an "all inclusive" program: drivers will arrive at the track and they will find everything already prepared for the weekend.

"We have come up with this program to allow new and foreign drivers to race with a well-organized team at their disposal with the possibility to continue the relationship for the forthcoming season – comments Stefano Tredicine, KGT Racing Team manager - Drivers competing at this international event will have the possibility to race with a 6-time world champion team and to book a seat in the team for the next season. We will have arrive & drive programs for all classes: new chassis, KGT Engines-tuned powerplants, spot under our tent, a dedicated mechanic as well as dedicated personnel for driver coaching, data and chassis setup advice with AIM system. Our programs will be a la carte to ensure that we are able to cater to each and every driver's needs."

Drivers coming from 3 different continents have already booked a place in the team, ensuring a multi-cultural and stimulating environment under the tent. Who looks to compete at the Rok Cup International Finals can contact the team via email to kgt.racingteam@tiscali.it.
